

T Levels in Higher Education

UNIVERSITY OF BATH

Some T-level courses will only be accepted alongside one or additional A-level courses.
Click the logo to find out more.

BA Education Studies: T Level in Education and Childcare Level 3 (NCFE), with an overall mark of Distinction.

BSc Information in Society: Digital Production, Design, and Development T Level (Pearson) and Digital Business Services T Level (NCFE) with an overall mark of Distinction.

Engineering Foundation Year: T Level in any subject to the value of 100 UCAS points (must be completed at a UK state school, see the prospectus for more information).

Applicants with T Levels, are considered on an individual basis and will be given full consideration where we have determined that curriculum content and learning outcomes provide suitable preparation for an applicant's chosen programme.

Chemistry, Nursing and Midwifery, and Bioscience programmes will accept T Levels.

Click the logo to find out more.

Click the logo to find out more.

Click the logo to find out more.

The University of Manchester

We consider T Levels for entry to directly relevant degree courses only. We always require a Distinction overall but specific scores required in the core component and occupational specialism will vary by T Level and degree.

We are able to accept T Levels for entry into the majority of our undergraduate programmes, subject to grade and subject-specific requirements. Please see individual programme entry requirements for further details of acceptance criteria.

T Levels will be considered for entry on to the foundation year courses offered by our Lifelong Learning Centre. Some of our faculties will accept T Levels for entry on to undergraduate degrees – this is dependent on the T Level subject and the degree course.

For Nursing and Midwifery subjects only.

UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL

For non-clinical programmes, we will consider T-Levels in a relevant subject on a case-by-case basis, but may require further information to assess an application such as an interview.

The University of Nottingham

The university accepts T-levels as equivalent to A-levels and considers applicants with T-Level qualifications, some courses may require additional qualifications to support meeting course specific requirements.

University of Essex

We can consider T-levels on a case-by-case basis, depending on subject studied and course applied for. If a T-level can be accepted, the offer for most of our undergraduate courses would be Distinction overall.

UNIVERSITY OF LEICESTER

Physiotherapy, Applied Psychology, Radiography, Creative Computing, Computer Science

US

University of Sussex

Case by case basis but accepts T-Levels in Biochemistry, Biomedicine, Genetics, Digital Media.